STEP INTO HISTORIC DENVER IN 2019!

Whether you are interested in tours or teas at the Molly Brown House, Walking Tours, educational programs, or after-hours events, we are offering something for everyone this year.

We seek to safeguard the soul of our city through education, advocacy, and leadership to preserve and honor Denver's unique identity for all generations. When a grassroots group of Denver citizens joined together in 1970 to save the celebrated historic home of unsinkable Margaret "Molly" Brown from demolition, Historic Denver was born.

Our recent work includes restoration at the Molly Brown House Museum; protecting the home of Denver's first African-American architect; advocating for the special scale and character of Larimer Square, our city's first historic district; and honoring and reinvesting in diverse historic places, from La Alma Lincoln Park to RiNo.

Attending our events — or becoming a member of Historic Denver — helps ensure the future of the Molly Brown House Museum and other vital historic places throughout Denver. Plus you'll receive great member discounts and special invitations. To see the many ways you can offer your support, visit our website at historicdenver.org. ■

MOLLY BROWN HOUSE MUSEUM SUMMER EXHIBIT

OPEN MAY 8 - AUGUST 26

"EVERYONE BUT THE BROWNS: 1340 PENNSYLVANIA ST. THROUGH THE YEARS"

AS 1340 PENNSYLVANIA reaches its 130th year, we will explore the stories of those who lived here, beyond the "Unsinkable" Margaret Brown. Whether they rented a room, were a "wayward girl," or lived in one of several apartments, the home's many other residents created memories and made histories of their own.

Hear the remembrances of Elizabeth Perkins, who went to secretary school in the 1920s held inside the Molly Brown House, and who met both Margaret and J.J. Brown. Discover notes and drawings by Joe Taylor, a child in the 1960s who left his belongings hidden inside the house's basement walls. Honor Art Leisenring, the owner of the boarding house at 1340 Pennsylvania who saved the Brown's home from demolition and helped launch a grassroots preservation organization, Historic Denver.
